

BRITISH AND FRENCH TAKE STRONG POINTS

Also Working in Conjunction On Mile and Half Front, Capture All of Their Objectives Near Poelcapelle and Houtholst Woods—Artillery Duels Elsewhere.

RUSSIAN FLEET ESCAPES GERMANS

London, England, Oct. 22.—Midnight.—Highly successful operations in the neighborhood of Poelcapelle and, in conjunction with the French, south of Houtholst forest, are reported in the communication from Field Marshal Haig tonight. The whole of the objective, including many strong points, were captured.

The British carried other valuable positions southeast of Poelcapelle beyond their objectives, and further north, co-operating with the French, captured the southern defenses of Houtholst forest.

The allies are established firmly well beyond the southern boundary of the forest.

The enemy by a strong counter attack in the vicinity of the Ypres station checked the British advance astride the railway, but elsewhere were unable to prevent progress. Heavy casualties were inflicted on the Germans and 200 prisoners were captured.

Take All Objectives.

The British and French forces in Belgium have delivered another attack against the German front north of Ypres and captured all their objectives, consisting of many strong points. The offensive was launched southeast of Poelcapelle and northward along the southern border of the Houtholst forest. The fighting front covered a distance of about a mile and a half with the French operating on the northern and the British on the southern end. Near Poelcapelle the British forces drove on beyond their objectives and gained important ground. The French troops took the western defensive of the Houtholst forest and in addition a series of fortified farms. The attack began in the early hours of the morning following heavy bombardment of the German positions and apparently the allies met with only slight resistance. The gains found were quickly made and afterward there was only a feeble reaction by the German artillery.

The violent artillery duels between the French and the Germans along the line sector and on the Verdun front continue, but the infantry of neither side has done anything more than carry out small raiding operations.

Likewise in the Austro-Italian theatre and in Macedonia bombardments prevail almost exclusively, although in the latter region the British and French troops daily are carrying out

Appears Total Will Fall Short of Loan's Maximum

Only Avalanche of Dollars Can Bring Total to
$5,000,000,000—New York Adds
$66,000,000 in Day

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—Treasury officials announced tonight that reports reaching the department of Liberty Loan subscriptions throughout the nation today were not of a character to warrant confidence that the $5,000,000,000 maximum quota desired will be achieved.

Virtually on the eve of the campaign launch it appears that the total will fall short of the huge sum set as the nation's goal. Only an avalanche of dollars can bring the list up to the $5,000,000,000 mark.

Officials assert will do much toward bringing the goal nearer but Liberty day will not do it all. The remaining three and a half days they assert, must be the days of the most strenuous endeavor and big results if the total runs up to $5,000,000,000.

"Indications from increases shown in the latest reports of sales and on Saturday's business as reflected into the Treasury department are that the $5,000,000,000 mark has been well passed," said the Treasury announcement tonight, "and that possibly $2,500,000,000 has been subscribed."

A total of unofficial estimates was not available from the 12 reserve banks. Officials delayed the issuance of the statement tonight beyond the usual hour waiting for reports but few came in.

Optimism Not Floating Loan.

"Optimism is being expressed by many," the announcement continued "in the belief that Liberty day and eleventh hour sales will carry the total across the maximum quota marked. It is considered unlikely by careful observers however that these two elements alone will result in the larger total."

"New York reported tonight that its total unofficial sales were $715,000,000 and official up to the close of business tonight $576,171,950."

"Complaint about the backwardness of rural investors came again today from the Chicago and Atlantic districts. With the latter making the more disappointing report."

"Chicago's report on other sections of the middle west was encouraging."

"Arizona has been aroused to renewed activity with the sinking of the Antilles. We hope to oversubscribe our allotment with a sum sufficient to buy a second Antilles," Harry E. Tuttle, chairman of the Arizona committee, wired today.

Persons of German blood lead the 34 nationalities of New York city in the purchase of Liberty bonds, having passed the amount subscribed by their nearest competitors, the Jews, according to figures read tonight at a Liberty loan meeting in Cooper Union by Joseph Hartigan, of the Liberty loan committee.

New York Adds $66,000,000.

New York, Oct. 22.—The final week of the second Liberty Loan campaign started off in the New York financial reserve district today with an increase in subscriptions of $66,000,000 over the total announced Saturday. The grand total for the district today tonight at $756,000,000. With five days remaining the district must subscribe $785,000,000, or approximately $100,000,000 a day if the quota is to be reached.

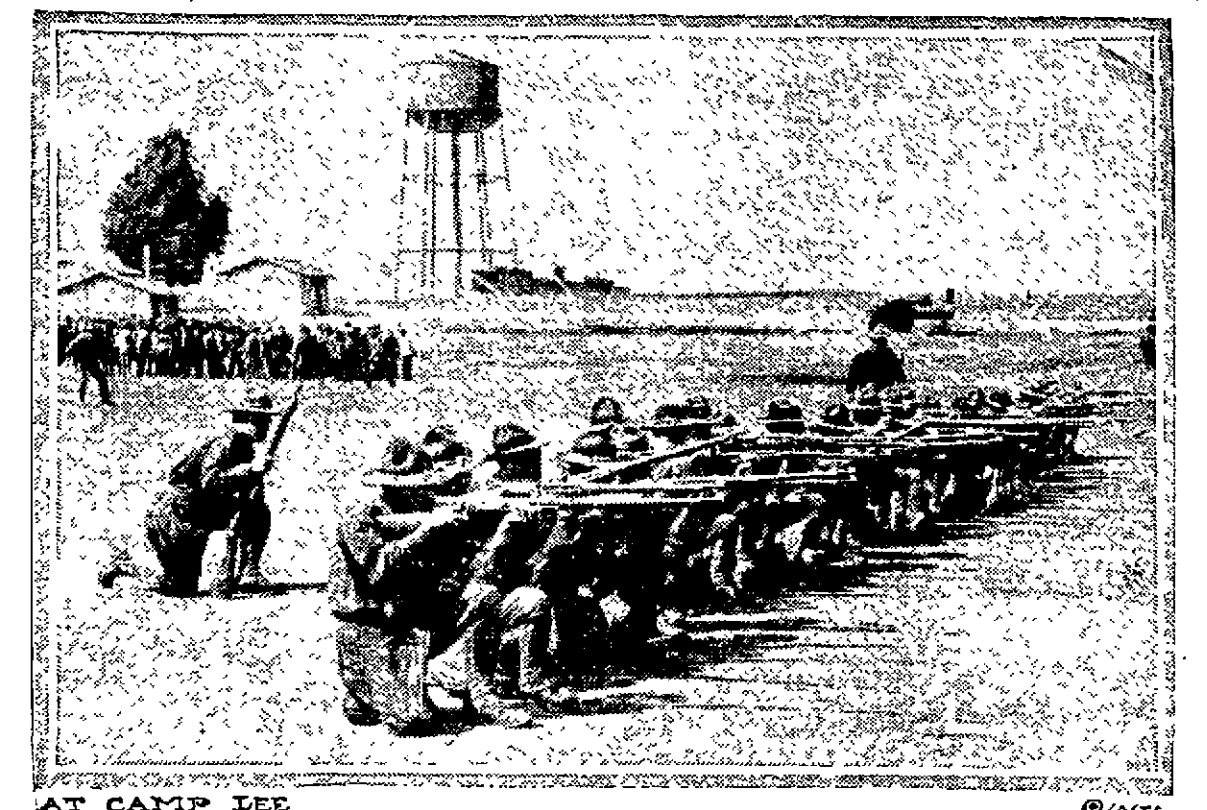

One hundred thousand persons are expected to march in the parade here on Wednesday set aside in a proclamation by President Wilson as Liberty day. A variety of floats have been constructed for the parade ranging from the spectacular exhibit of Coney Island to the symbolization of the work of the Red Cross. It was announced that the largest flag ever seen in New York will be carried at the head of the parade.

PERSHING ON INSPECTION.

American Training Camp in France, Oct. 22, by the Associated Press.—General Pershing has gone on a tour of inspection of the lines of communication which is expected to occupy him several days.

The French government has placed at his disposal for the purpose a private railway car so constructed that an automobile can be carried in it. The private car is equipped with every convenience for the trip.

Drafted Men in South Make Fine Showing

AT CAMP LEE.

A great deal has been said about the inability of Americans to give a good account of themselves in the European war because of their ignorance of firearms and lack of military training.

That the people of this country need not be worried about "our boys" is proven by the above picture, taken a few days ago at Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va., showing a company of drafted men being instructed in the manual of firearms. The men are making remarkable progress and promise to make the "Boches" properly respect them.

LAW LEGALIZES LIQUOR IMPORT

Section in Revenue Law Said to Repeal Prohibition Article in Food Law

TREASURY UNDECIDED

Instructions Sent to All Customs
Collectors Recalled—Attorney
General to Decide

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—Instructions to all customs collectors throughout the country to admit to entry distilled spirits produced abroad prior to October 1 last, "either for beverage purposes or for other than beverage purposes" were made public and recalled within the space of a few hours today by the treasury department. The issuance of instructions, which were sent out by Assistant Secretary Rowe last Saturday, was based upon an interpretation of the food and revenue laws given by Lawrence Becker, solicitor of the treasury department, and officials of the department of justice.

Mr. Becker ruled that the revenue law approved October 1 repealed provisions of the previously enacted food control law which flatly prohibited the importation of any distilled spirits. Now the question has been placed before the attorney general himself for a decision and in the meantime the food law prohibition remains in effect.

That section of the food law, passed August 10, after prohibiting the manufacture of distilled beverages in this country says:

Where the Repeal Lies.

"Nor shall there be imported into the United States any distilled spirits."

Section 301 of the Revenue law, passed nearly two months later provides:

"That no distilled spirits produced after the passage of this act shall be imported into the United States from any foreign country or from the West Indian islands recently acquired from Denmark (unless produced from products the growth of such island and not then in any state or territory or district of the United States in which the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors is prohibited) or from Porto Rico or the Philippine Islands."

Mr. Becker held that the words "produced after the passage of this act" in the revenue law in effect, permitted the admission to entry of spirits distilled prior to the enactment of this act. Instructions consequently were addressed to all collectors advising them to permit the importation of distilled spirits produced abroad prior to October 3.

Attorney General to Pass.

Today these instructions were recalled, high officials of the department taking the stand that the question was one of such magnitude that Attorney General Gregory should pass upon it.

The effect of the decision of the solicitor would be to make available for importation and consumption here the great store of whiskey, cordials, liquors and other distilled beverages produced abroad prior to the enactment of the revenue law. It also should permit importation of spirits distilled from virgin island products either before or after the revenue bill became law.

How far Mr. Becker's interpretation of the law became operative before the recall of instructions is unknown. The instructions were 48 hours old when recalled. The collector at New York, for example, had all of today in which to permit the entry of distilled spirits into the country.

Applies to Seized Shipments.

Such admission applies not only to importations arriving today, but also to shipments reaching the United

Lloyd George Sees No Peace in Sight Now

In a speech delivered in London David Lloyd George, the British prime minister, said he had carefully observed the situation and saw no peace terms in sight which would lead to an enduring peace. The temporary collapse of the Russian military power he added had ended the thoughts of peace this year but the entry of the United States into the war and the decrease in the effectiveness of Germany's U-boats were factors which were working in favor of the allies.

The prime minister said the way to shorten the war was to prepare for it as if the struggle were going to be a long one. He reiterated that when the time for peace came it must be a lasting peace.

INDICT SENATOR IN REAL ESTATE DEALS

CHARGE REYNOLDS CONSPIRED
FOR EXCESSIVE PRICES

New York, Oct. 22.—Three indictments were handed up today by the extraordinary grand jury investigating real estate sales to the city which have been made an issue in the present mayoralty campaign.

The main indictment charges former State Senator William H. Reynolds and three others with conspiring to obtain from the city an excessive price for the Seaside Park site at West Rockaway, by procuring the presentation of alleged false testimony before condemnation commissioners as to the value of the land. The city paid $1,250,000 and interest for the property.

The others indicted are Frank Bailey, vice president of the Title Guaranty and Trust company; William H. Greve, vice president of the Realty Associates and president of the Depository Realty company and Charles O'Malley, a realty expert employed in the city controller's office. The second indictment is a superseding one, charging perjury against Reynolds and the third charges neglect of duty against O'Malley.

67 LOST WITH ANTILLES

Sixteen Were Soldiers; Pershing Cables Casualty List.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—General Pershing today cabled the war department the complete casualty list in the destruction of the homeward bound army transport Antilles by a German submarine last Wednesday. He gave no additional details of the disaster.

Sixty-seven men including 16 soldiers went down with the ship, another is unaccounted for, and 170 were rescued by the naval convoy. Many of those killed were foreigners of the transport engine and boiler room forces and some of the missing soldiers also were of foreign birth.

General Pershing did not explain why the soldiers were being sent home.

States after the enactment of the food control law and seized by customs officials to await final disposition of the department.

"In view of the foregoing decision," the recalled instructions said, "that the prohibition of the importation of distilled spirits contained in section 15 of the act approved August 10, is repealed by section 301 of the act of October 2, distilled spirits imported prior to October 4, 1917, and refused entry and seized by collectors under the provisions or regulation issued by the treasury department, August 20, may be released and admitted to entry."

If acted upon today, the effect of these instructions will have been to admit into the country large stores of such importations.

WINTER NOT TO HALT FIGHTING

Secretary Baker's Report Says
Germans Will Be Constantly
Driven Back

MENTIONS OUR MEN

Says They Are in Excellent Condition—Calls Riga Action
Bracer For Germans

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—Military officers do not expect the winter to halt the great allied drive against the Germans in Flanders. Secretary Baker's weekly review of war operations issued tonight discloses the belief of the war department that the potency of material and men will enable the British and French commanders to triumph over natural obstacles and continue forcing the enemy backward without waiting for spring.

The review touches for the first time upon the American expeditionary forces in France, declaring the men, after three months' intensive training, are in excellent fighting trim and splendid physical condition.

In dwelling upon the importance of the battle in Flanders and its effect upon the morale of the Germans, the war secretary declared it apparent that the German high command planned the recent expedition against the Russians in the Riga sector in order to bolster up morale and meet impending internal difficulties. By extending her lines in the east, he adds, Germany has merely added to the length of her line of communication and increased confidence in the final allied victory.

The review, in part covering the week ending October 20, follows:

"Our men in France, after three months' intensive training, are in splendid physical condition and in efficient fighting trim. They have readily become acclimated and now feel at home in the war zone."

"Our troops have met with the most warm hearted and enthusiastic reception upon the part of the armies and people of France. The health of our men overseas is reported as excellent."

"The week just closed has been one of relative quiet on all fronts."

"Bad weather already prevails along the western front. Wintry conditions will soon set in and the terrain will become increasingly difficult for attacking troops. Nevertheless, the potency of allied material and men, the accumulation of the technical means of combat and the preparations which have been going on for many months will make it possible for the British commanders to triumph over natural obstacles and with intervals we may expect the offensive to press forward."

"It is not anticipated that the allies will go into winter quarters this year. The full importance of the battle in Flanders is beginning to be revealed. In order to appreciate the real significance of this engagement and the effect it has had on the morale of the German army and the German people we must consider briefly the German attacks in the Riga sector, including the capture of Oesel, Dago, and other minor islands of the Finnish gulf."

"While no attempt should be made to belittle the importance of the positions gained by the enemy we cannot fail to record that it is apparent that the Germans undertook this position with a view to bolstering up the morale of the country more particularly in order to meet the pending internal troubles, and a near cabinet crisis."

The German high command has invariably picked out a weakened objective in order to be able to record a success, which has been of political rather than military value. The islands of the Finnish coast in the hands of the enemy in no way offset the recent allied victories in Flanders."

PLAN TO MEET SUGAR FAMINE

Eleven Cents Fixed as Maximum Price in New York City.

New York, Oct. 22.—With many more New York stores displaying "no sugar" signs plans to insure an equitable distribution of the remaining supply available here were made at a meeting today of sugar refiners, wholesalers and retailers. Commissioner of Markets Moskowitz fixed ten to eleven cents as the maximum retail price for sugar by agreement of those attending the meeting. Dealers charging more than this figure will be cut off from further supply. This provision is calculated to curb profiteering.

Further details of the plan will be worked out at a meeting in the local office of the Federal food administration tomorrow. It is to be made operative as soon as completely drafted.

Patrons of most retail dealers today were unable to secure more than a pound or two of sugar, purchases being limited to this amount so as to discourage hoarding.

ITALIAN AND EIGHT MEN FLY 325 MILES

LONGEST FLIGHT OF KIND RECORDED IN U. S.

Mineola, L. I., Oct. 22.—Carrying eight passengers, Lieutenant Sylvia Resnati arrived at the government aviation field here in his Caproni biplane, at 4:12 o'clock this afternoon, completing a flight of about 325 miles from Hampton, Va. in four hours and eleven minutes.

According to officials of the Aero Club of America, the flight breaks all records in the United States for machines carrying two or more passengers. In 1916, a flight was made by a pilot and two passengers from Newport News to Sheephead Bay, N. Y., a distance about 20 miles shorter than Resnati's achievement. The only flight with as many as eight passengers made in this country before the club's records show, was between Newport News and Buffalo.

The large biplane which Resnati piloted today has a spread of 85 feet, while that of a triplane he has is over 100 feet in breadth. Each is equipped with three motors and propellers.

Accompanying Resnati were Captain Cappi, Lieutenant A. Tantonio, Corporal A. G. Anselmo of the Italian army; Capt. A. W. Hill, Lieutenant Erickson of the United States army, Giovanni Basso and Francesco Galletti.

Resnati tomorrow will make flights about New York city, dropping Liberty Loan pamphlets from the big airplane. It was announced shortly after completion of today's flight.

THREW CHILD INTO FLAMES

Story Told at Inquiry Into East St. Louis Race Riots.

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 22.—Testimony that during the race riots here July 2, a mob threw a negro child into a burning house after it had escaped from the flames was given at the congressional inquiry into the riots today by Edwin Popkes, a reporter for a St. Louis, Mo., newspaper. He said he also saw four or five national guardsmen shoot and kill two negroes who ran from a burning house. Inquiry into political conditions in East St. Louis was continued.

Paul Anderson, a newspaper reporter, who testified Saturday, resumed his story today. He said that before Federal Judge Lambis ordered a reformation last November many saloons in the city were conducted in a disorderly manner and were the chief breeding places of crime.

The lawless element that frequented these saloons he thought was the same that took part in the riots.

BOXING FOR SOLDIERS

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 22.—George Steffen, known to admirers of the boxing game as Willie Ritchie, former lightweight champion of the world, is to be boxing instructor for National Army men in the Ninety-first division at Camp Lewis, American Lake, Washington. This announcement was made today by T. C. Cook, director of athletics at the camp.

Sound strategy demands that no such diversion of forces be taken at so crucial a moment.

"If the enemy had any confidence in being able to stem successfully the tide of the allied advance into the west, he would throw every ounce of his strength into the balance in Flanders and with the crushing of the allied army bring about 'peace with victory' which the German has often stated as his objective."

"Germany by extending her lines in the east has merely added to the length of her line of communications. Thus the events in Russia today should cause us to have increasing confidence in final allied victory."

"Along the western front trench raids as well as the usual artillery duels are reported. Isolated counter attacks are conducted by the enemy in such a manner as to indicate that no real successes were expected but merely to serve to keep up the aggressive spirit of the troops."

"It is evident that the terrible punishment by allied artillery fire is beginning to have a very decided effect on the western front. Never before have so many German divisions after brief encounters been withdrawn and replaced by fresh troops. Deserters of Germans taken into the allied lines have become more increasing."

COOL QUICKNESS FOILED U-BOAT

Admiral Sims Tells Full Story of Torpedoing of U. S. Destroyer
While Patrolling

HOW CASSIN WAS HIT

Sighted Submarine Five Miles
Away—Half Hour Later Torpedo
Seen Approaching

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—Coolness and quick maneuvering by Commander Walter H. Vernon probably saved the American destroyer Cassin from destruction in an encounter with a German submarine in the war zone on October 16, the navy department was advised today by Vice Admiral Sims in his full report of the fight, meagre details of which were received last week.

Before she had an opportunity to fire a shot the destroyer was hit on the stern by a torpedo which killed gunners mate Osmond Kelly Ingraham, slightly wounded five others of the crew, and put one engine out of commission. The Cassin had been searching half an hour for a submarine first sighted five miles away when Commander Vernon suddenly saw a torpedo 400 yards distant and making for the ship at high speed. Realizing that his vessel was in imminent danger of being hit amidships and broken in two the commander ordered full speed ahead and the wheel hard over. The patrol boat was just clear of the torpedo's path when the projectile branched on the surface turned sharply and hit its mark.

Submarine Is Sighted.

The navy department made this official announcement late today regarding the incident:

"The destroyer recently mentioned in dispatches made public, as being injured by a torpedo was the U. S. S. Cassin, commanded by Commander W. M. Vernon; executive officer Lieut. J. W. MacLaran; junior officers Lieut. J. A. Saunders, Lieut. L. R. Agreel, Lieut. R. M. Parkinson, and assistant surgeon D. W. Queen."

"While this vessel was on her patrol station, a submarine was sighted on the surface at about five miles distant. The Cassin immediately proceeded at full speed toward the submarine with her crew at their battle stations. She searched the area for about 20 minutes zigzagging back and forth while the commanding officer, Commander Vernon, sighted a torpedo running at high speed near the surface about 400 yards away headed to strike the Cassin amidships."

Torpedo Turns and Hits.

"Realizing the situation the commanding officer rang for emergency full speed ahead on both engines, put the rudder hard over, and was just clear of the torpedo's course when it branched on the surface turned sharply toward the vessel and struck the stern of the Cassin."

"Fortunately only one engine was disabled, thereby permitting the destroyer to remain under way circling in search of the submarine. After about an hour the submarine exposed its conning tower long enough for the Cassin to fire four shots. Two of the shots fell so close to the submarine that it was forced to submerge immediately and was not seen again. The Cassin continued to search until dark when, having been joined by British and American patrol vessels, she was taken safely into port."

Behavior on Destroyer Praised.

"Vice Admiral Sims states that the behavior of the officers and the entire crew was admirable. There was no excitement on board, the men remaining quietly at their battle stations throughout the night except when called to other duty. He commends the British navy for the prompt and efficient assistance rendered the Cassin."

"Admiral Sims gives special credit to Commander Vernon for his vigilance and prompt action which probably saved the Cassin from total loss. He also commends Lieutenants MacLaran, Saunders and Parkinson for their ingenuity in effecting temporary repairs and for their coolness and efficient work."

The statement also gives the names of men sighted by Vice Admiral Sims for showing coolness and qualities of leadership. They include George Frank Klein, chief pharmacy mate, sister, Anna Taylor, 702 Potomac avenue, Buffalo, John Erwin McCann, chief water tender, mother, Mary McCann, Sanburn, N. Y.; and John Frederick Stawitzki, chief gunner's mate, father, Frank Stawitzki, 133 Reed street, Buffalo, N. Y.

HEADS WAR RISK BUREAU

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—Charles S. Nesbitt, superintendent of insurance of the District of Columbia, has been designated by Secretary McAdoo as commissioner of insurance in the government's war risk insurance bureau. Mr. Nesbitt, under the direction of the treasury, will have charge of the soldiers' and sailors' war insurance administration.

WILL NOT BUY BONDS

New York, Oct. 22.—Morris Hilgitt, Socialist candidate for mayor of New York city, declared in a statement tonight that he has not subscribed to the Liberty Loan, nor does he intend to do so because he will not do anything to advance the war.

COMPARES FRENCH LOAN WITH OURS

James S. Alexander Emphasizes Support Given to Bonds of the Invaded Nation.

James S. Alexander, president of the National Bank of Commerce, in New York, gave out the following statement through the Liberty Loan Committee: "The flotation of a new war loan after so brief an interval may give rise to the opinion that the American people are being subjected to a very heavy financial strain. Comparatively speaking, however, that is certainly not the case.

"At present there exists a natural feeling of pride and gratification over the admirable response which the first Liberty Loan received. It is estimated that over four million people offered three billion dollars to the government at that time. Compared to this, however, the response of the French people to their great National Loan of 1917 has established a record of achievement which we have yet to equal, taking into consideration the relative wealth and population of the two countries.

"This great French loan was announced in November, 1915, after fifteen months of war, during which about four billion dollars had been raised by short term loans and advances from the Bank of France and the Bank of Algeria. Stimulated by the presence of an invader on French soil, bonds aggregating $2,584,587,097 were taken by 3,130,000 persons in 21 days. Part of these bonds were taken in exchange for earlier issues amounting to $1,385,454,509, which were converted. As the loan was issued at a discount the amount actually subscribed was somewhat lower than the debt acknowledged by the government. The subscriptions were composed of the following elements:

Cash	$1,161,299,488
Savings banks	51,853,575
National defense bonds	489,166,368
National defense obligation	614,008,109
Short dated obligations	26,150,421
1 per cent. rentes	277,816,370
3 1/2 per cent. amortizable rentes	4,318,493
Total	$2,584,587,097

"Of the total number of subscribers 1,181,921 made application through the central subscription agency, 360,798 through the Bank of France, 19,536 from the army and 1,827,748 came from various accounts of the Treasury.

"The subscriptions to this loan approach the amount subscribed to our first Liberty Loan. When we consider that our population is about two and one-half times greater than that of France and our wealth is even greater in proportion, we can appreciate what France has done and the record she has established for our emulation.

"Of course we have been seriously handicapped in this country by the lack of a tradition in investing similar to that which has been fostered in France for generations, but fortunately the campaign of education during our last loan is rapidly overcoming this difficulty. This development, coupled with the growing appreciation of the seriousness of the war, is producing an attitude of sympathetic understanding toward the new Liberty Loan, which offers to us the opportunity of attaining a result proportionate to the achievement of our ally across the sea.

"The emphasis should be laid upon the distribution of the loan. No one doubts it will be fully subscribed. But if the small subscribers and the people of moderate means do not come forward the banks will be put to a strain which will retard the credit machinery of the country and retard the prosecution of the war. That the role as a whole will come forward no one who understands the American spirit for a moment can doubt."

Willing to Take His Word. An Irish contractor who had taken on a new job was addressing the gang of men he had employed.

"Look here, boys," he said. "This job has got to be carried through quickly. There has got to be no slacking. I am under a penalty of five hundred dollars if I don't get the work finished in a month. And look here! I can lick any man in this gang, and if I have any trouble, you've got to look out!"

"What did you say?" said a big Irishman, who had evidently had a glass too much. "Did you say that you could lick any man in this gang? If you did, it's a lie! You can't lick me! You come down here and try!"

The contractor answered, "If I can't lick you, you had better go and get your money, because I don't mean to have any man on this 'ere job that I can't lick!"—London Tit-Bits.

Bank Gives Children Money.

It is not often a bank gives away money, but that is just what the Third National bank of Atlanta did recently. This bank, which has a large number of children's accounts, having provided a special window for them in its savings department, saw that every baby born in Atlanta in the week of August 23-29, inclusive, has a savings bank account of its own. In other words, the bank presented each child born in this period with a savings donation of $1 set down in a savings bank book.

Why the Cat Was Worshipped.

The worshiping of the cat by the Egyptians has been attributed to the fact that where there were cats there was no bubonic plague. The ancients did not think quite far enough to realize that where there were cats the rats were scarce and so went on worshipping the cat, supposing that it was the animal's supernatural power which saved them from the plague.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York Markets.

New York, Oct. 22. — Advances of one to four points in the first half of today's stock market session were gradually forfeited later, the market closing with a heavy trend. Early improvement was most general in war shares and the varied groups of equipments.

Developments over the week-end received favorable interpretation for the most part and the rapid growth of the Liberty loan was again a factor. Money rates were virtually undisturbed.

Trading was of a professional character, public inquiry reflecting only a moderate accession. Gas shares were depressed even when other specialties were inclined to advance. Consolidated gas dropped six points and People's Gas established a new minimum at 39. United States Steel reacted from 107 1/2, its top of the forenoon, to 104 1/2, and closed at 105 1/2, a net loss of 1 1/2. Independent steels, notably Bethlehem, Crucible and Lackawanna, met with similar reversals and early substantial gains in Baldwin and American locomotives were lost.

Rails were again neglected and shippings, oils and tobaccos shared in the last reaction with motors and specialties.

Enlarged dealings in the irregular bond market were mainly due to activity in Liberty 3 1/2's at 99.70 to 99.72. United States coupon two rose 1/2 per cent on call, and registered two declined 1/2 per cent on sales.

Notice to Sick Women

The Experience of These Women Prove That There is a Remedy for Your Illness.

Aberdeen, Idaho.—"Last year I suffered from a weakness with pains in my side and back. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I did so. After taking one bottle I felt very much better. I have now taken three bottles and feel like a different woman. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine I have ever taken and I can recommend it to all suffering women."—Mrs. FRANK FRASER, Aberdeen, Idaho.

Kingfisher, Okla.—"For two years I suffered with a severe female trouble, was nervous, and had backache and a pain in my side most of the time. I had dizzy spells and was often so faint I could not walk across the floor. The doctor said I would have to have an operation. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking ten bottles I am now well and strong, have no pain, backache or dizzy spells. Every one tells me how well I look and I tell them Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did it."—Miss NINA SOUTHWICK, R. F. D. No. 4, Box 33, Kingfisher, Okla.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND has restored more sick women to health than any other remedy.

BOXING ONE OF CHIEF TRAINING CAMP SPORTS

Man Who Knows the Manly Art Has Edge on Foe Who Does Not.

Because the essentials of boxing form ideal and necessary training for bayonet work, the art of wielding the padded mitts is to be one of the chief sports of the training camp at Rockford, Ill. Camp officers assert that the man who knows boxing has considerably the edge on the foe who does not, when it comes to bayonet work at close quarters, and declare the efficient boxer to be the better soldier.

To provide the competitive element necessary to keep interest from waning, competition between companies and regiments in boxing as well as in other lines of sports, is planned by directors of camp athletics. The boxing bouts planned will be carefully supervised and all undesirable features eliminated.

Louis Omer, former athletic director at Northwestern university, who has been appointed director of camp athletics, already has outlined his plans for camp sports and for athletic purposes has divided the camp into 21 units.

Among the well-known athletes appointed to represent different organizations in camp sports are Lieut. Fritz Beerman, former gridiron star at Northwestern university, and Lieut. Herbert Juul, formerly a member of the pitching staff of the Chicago Cubs.

Had Her Reasons.

They were discussing church affairs when Mary came home from school, and Aunt Maria remarked "little pitchers have big ears," and the conversation stopped. A few days afterward the minister came to tea and gave some of his attention to Mary.

"Do you like to go to church?" he asked.

"No," answered Mary, very firmly but politely.

"And why not, my little dear?"

"Oh," said Mary, with a smile, "little pitchers have big ears," very much to the surprise of her mother and Aunt Maria, who colored consciously, and the minister changed the conversation.

NO REAL BRITISH "NOBILITY"

No Member of the English Peerage, With Few Exceptions, Can Give Proof of Ancient Lineage.

In England the Saxon "thane" was transformed, after the Norman conquest, into a "baron" unless the dominant power entirely deprived him of his position as a nobleman. It is possible that many thanes were absorbed in the English yeomanry. In France and Germany the prefix "de" and "von," which are essentially local, designated noble rank. Even in poor old Ireland, where nearly every man boasts of his descent from kings, "O" and "Mac" are aristocratic symbols, although many Irishmen of today have for one reason or another discarded the prefix. But in England the custom has died out.

The wearing of coat armor was for centuries a badge of nobility, but the right to wear coat armor was granted so lavishly that the members of the English peerage can, with few exceptions, give no proof of any ancient lineage. There is, in fact, no real "nobility" in England in the sense in which the word is used in continental Europe. It is a curious circumstance that many real "gentlemen," in the heraldic sense of that unfortunate word, have never worn coat armor at all and were neither desirous nor competent to exhibit a coat-of-arms to the persons who attach value to such an empty possession. Heralds have failed to establish any man's right to call himself a "gentleman," and the majority of genealogies given for the British "nobility" and "gentry" are in all probability mythical or, in the American vernacular, "fakes."

RUSSIANS ROUTED IN RIGA GULF

Entering the Gulf of Riga through the channel (1), a German squadron forced the Russian naval patrols to retire to the entrance of Moon Sound (2). Two Russian battleships and one cruiser went out to meet the Germans, and in the battle which followed one of the Russian battleships, the Slava, was sunk. The Russians retreated into Moon Sound. Land batteries at the entrance to Moon Sound held off the German advance until they were put out of action. German forces were then landed on Moon Island, which they now hold, according to the Berlin official report. German troops were landed also on the southwestern coast of Dagö Island (3), but were forced to withdraw. Fifty-five German warships were sighted in these waters. Naval experts believe that naval and military operations against the Åland Islands (4) will be the next blow of the Germans in their plan to put Russia out of the war.

OTSEGO COUNTY NEWS

SERIES OF ACCIDENTS.

Most Serious of These Occurred Sunday Morning in Schenectady.

Schenectady, Oct. 22.—A series of automobile accidents occurred to Schenectady drivers in the past few days, the most serious of which took place at the corner of Elk and Main streets in this village at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning, when the cars of E. W. Baldwin, who resides on the Elk Creek road, and Alex Bulson came together. Mr. Bulson, accompanied by his wife, daughter and two other ladies, was proceeding west on Main street when the Baldwin car came around the corner just in time to meet it. Fortunately, both cars were running at a moderate rate of speed. The rear of the Bulson car swung around toward the center of the road and the rear wheel collapsed, throwing the occupants of the rear seat out, but not injuring them. Mrs. Bulson sustained a severe gash across the forehead from a piece of the windshield and Mr. Baldwin was cut about the hands and feet. The front end of both cars were badly damaged and will require extensive repairs.

Accident Near Oneonta.

On Friday evening, the car of H. G. French of this village was struck roadside by the car of D. Breese of Liverpool Center near the watering trough this side of Oneonta, when the latter attempted to pass between the French car and a wagon.

And Still Another.

Friday night George Hall Jr. of Westford, ran into the guard rail near the residence of Arthur Hughes while returning home from Schenectady, and considerable damage resulted to his car, which was a Ford.

Officer Chokinging Bury.

Officer Chokinging apprehended another disturber of the peace this morning and despite stubborn resistance brought him before Justice Bulson. He was locked up until he could sober up sufficiently to permit his arraignment.

A man from a neighboring hamlet also fell into the toils of the newly appointed police officer on Saturday night. His team was taken away from him, fed and cared for, and when the offender sobered up he was permitted to return to his home.

A Teaco Supper.

The gentlemen of the Methodist Episcopal church will serve a "Teaco Supper" at the church on Wednesday evening from 5:30 to 8:00 o'clock. A tempting menu will be served. Price 20 cents.

A Sacred Concert.

The choir of the Westford Methodist Episcopal church in conjunction with the choir of the Schenectady Methodist Episcopal church will render a sacred cantata, "The Galilean," at the church

Easy to Make This Pine Cough Remedy

Thousands of families swear by its prompt results. Inexpensive, and easy to make.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" is usually plain granulated sugar syrup. Nothing better, but why buy it? You can easily make it yourself in five minutes. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex (60 cents worth) in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. This gives you a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the irritation of phlegm. The cause is the thin, inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment. It is a highly concentrated combination of the finest pine extract, famous world over for its prompt results. Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and directions, and don't accept any other. It's the only one that's right. Put it in your money bag. It's a sure cure. Wm. M. Anderson.

Thomas' church, New York city, on Saturday, Nov. 10. A reception at Hotel Gotham will follow.

Leaves for "Over There."

Miss Marion Gregory, daughter of the late Charles Gregory, who has been a summer colonist here for many seasons, sails the early part of November for France, with the unit from the Woman's hospital in New York to act as interpreter for Dr. Carolyn Finley, the head of the unit.

Wind Works Wonders.

During the heavy wind of Friday, many trees were blown down about the village, window lights were broken and the steamer Pathfinder, used in collecting milk for the International Milk Products company, went ashore a few miles up the lake. The milk cargo of 154 cans was saved, but was sour.

MILFORD IS WAKING UP.

Committee of Ladies Appointed to Assist in Campaigning for Liberty Loan.

Milford, October 22. (Special.)—Though Milford has many sons already enlisted in the National army—several in Company G, others at Camp Devens and still others enlisted in various units of the army and navy, the village up to this time does not seem fully to have awakened to its duties, which in fact are privileges more than duties, of taking a liberal share in the Liberty loan. The town is a thrifty one and it is believed that, once the matter is fully presented to its citizens, they will subscribe promptly and liberally.

To assist in this important work a woman's committee has been appointed and will make a canvass of the village and town. The members of the committee are Mrs. F. L. Platt, president; Mrs. S. H. Osborn, secretary; Mrs. C. J. Armstrong, Mrs. Carrie F. Lane, Mrs. George Mumford, Mrs. M. E. Armstrong and Miss Vera McRorie.

While the ladies above named will endeavor to make a thorough canvass it is hoped that no one whom the committee fails to see will neglect sending in a subscription, which may be to any member of the committee or to the Milford National bank. The obligation is a general one and its fulfillment should not depend upon personal solicitation. Let everybody get busy and send in a subscription to the Liberty loan. It is in no sense a gift. It is an obligation which is owed to the republic; and to the person buying the bonds it is the safest of investments.

HEARD IN HARTWICK.

SIXTY-SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Butts Celebrate the Event Sunday.

Mr. Vision, Oct. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Morris Butts celebrated their sixty-seventh wedding anniversary Sunday. They have always lived in the town of Laurens. Mr. Butts' eighty-eighth birthday was October 7 and Mrs. Butts was 87 years old October 11. Mr. Butts' great grandfather served in the Revolutionary war and his great great grandfather was a brigadier general in the French and Indian war.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES—$4.00 per year; 50c per month; 10c per week.

"All that a man hath will be given for his life." It is a biblical saying, and it applies to nations and individuals alike. As a part of the great American commonwealth, what have you to say about it? As an American citizen, how much will you give to preserve the life of the United States? The Liberty Loan subscription is open.

The day of the Zeppelin as an offensive airship appears to be over. One passing over France on Sunday four were brought down, two intact with their crew and the other two falling in flames. The four which escaped apparently made their way over Switzerland, where, if landing, they doubtless will be interned. The swifter and comparatively invisible airplanes are more than a match for the big Zeppelins, which appear to have been a very costly but ineffectual experiment.

The fact that the Russian fleet, which was at first believed to be bottled up in Moon Sound, after the taking of Dago Island, has escaped and has sailed north to join the main fleet, is the best bit of recent news from the eastern front. Captured, these ships would have been a considerable addition to the German fleet. As things now are, it is not likely that Germany will be able to make much further advance this winter in Russia. As for Petrograd, if taken, which now is unlikely, it would be more an incumbrance than an asset.

Have you bought your Liberty Loan bond? If you have not, then it is up to you to do so at once. In the face of a common peril, it is the duty of every citizen to unite in the common defense. If you have friends and relatives to the front, buying a bond will help to make their work more decisive and more quickly over. If you have not, the obligation is even greater. In times like these nobody can be a slacker. Buy, and when you buy remember that the most you can do falls far short of what the American troops are doing when it is not money alone which they offer, but their lives.

Herr Wilhelm of the Kaiserbund, we have a word to speak with thee. Too long has earth been straffed and Hunned, too long beneath the smiling sea your sneaking submarines have hid in vampire ambush night and day, while Death awaited at your bid to make of innocence its prey. Too long, yes, far too long have we had faith that time would yet attest some thought of mercy there might be still finding lodgment in your breast. The hope has vanished and today the world's heroic honor roll lists for its pledge to make you pay each human being with a heart, each human being with a soul!

The Hunter's moon and the Harvest moon, seems to be the time set by the Huns for their air incursions over London. During the full moon in September their work certainly was effective; but it is believed now that means have been devised to fend off the Gotha type of machine lately used by the Germans, which, though large and carrying more men and guns, is much slower than the earlier type. A recent reason given for renewal of the air attacks is that they serve to keep a larger number of the English machines defensively at home instead of permitting them to be used in active operations on the battle front.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

Think It Over!

The German government, in its seventh war loan campaign just ended, made this appeal to the people: "The new war loan must be successful—otherwise we shall encourage England to continue the struggle! It can be successful—for there is money enough in the country. It will be successful—if each man acts as if everything depended on him alone." Substitute Germany for England; italicize the words "must," "can," and "will," and think it over.—[Springfield Republican.]

Here Buys More Than It Has for Years
A reader in Michigan writes to us to express the opinion that "the greatest difficulty in the way of the success of the Liberty loan is not lack of patriotism, but the decreasing purchasing power of any particular sum of money. One hundred dollars will buy only a fraction of the commodities it bought years ago."

There is one commodity of which the dollar buys more than ever. One hundred dollars invested in the Liberty loan will buy a $100 bond of the United States of America. There have been plenty of times in recent years when it would not; there will be plenty in the years to come.—[New York Sun.]

Germany and Austria.
After ten months of arduous effort, Germany's peace campaign has failed to provoke an answer from any of her enemies; yet it has not been altogether unsuccessful. She has failed to get England, France, or Italy to discuss peace, but she has got Austria discussing it. There are no peace negotiations going on between Germany and the United States, but there are active peace negotiations going on between Germany and Austria. The two allies started out gayly side by side, but they have got off their horses to argue with each other. The situation becomes almost comic when it is noted that the peace controversy is assuming the form of a demand by Austria that Germany state her terms, and of the usual slippery evasions of the demand by Germany.—[New York Times.]

Show Us the German.

The Syracuse Post-Standard tells of an incident at night school. The principal was showing stereopticon pictures to a large class of men and a group of foreign boys playing an American game. He said: "In that group is an Italian, a French boy, a Hebrew, a German—" and three voices interrupted to demand, "Show us that German!"—[Exchange.]

The Transport Antilles.

It is a transport emptied of its fighting troops which has now been caught, but the loss of life is still grievous. If people are not fully awake to the fact that the German monster is at their throats, this will help awaken them. If there are those still lethargic in the matter of arming the nation to strike back, this will help to shake them up. The pending war loan leaves no individual without power to contribute a blow of his own. Let it be delivered without an exception!—[New York World.]

Anaemic Loyalty.

Henry Watterson—bless his sturdy soul—from the beginning of hostilities has daily enunciated the slogan, "To h— with the Hohenzollern and Hapsburgs." That is surely their destination. An outraged world deserves it. The peace of the earth requires it. Humanity and civilization demand it. All Christendom commands it. And America will help mightily and righteously to encompass it.

Meanwhile, modifying that slogan. To the scrap heap with "anaemic loyalty." It is in the way.—[Seattle Post Intelligencer.]

New York Patriotism.

When the patriotism of this time comes to be assessed in history the great New York moneyed institutions cannot be overlooked. The small bank in a pro-German western community deserves sympathy and may need government protection, but the banks of the country generally are showing a public spirit which will be an ample protection for them in itself.—[New York World.]

Ode Owed to the Ode.

A southern paper asks why some poet does not write an ode to the shrinking garbage can. Odes have been written to the shrinking violet and other modest flowers, but though the garbage can usually has an odor, no poet has yet called it a flower worthy an ode.—[Utica Press.]

SUPREME COURT AT DELHI.

Action Against U. & D. for Death of William G. C. Harvey Commenced.

Trial of the action brought against the Ulster and Delaware railroad by the administrators of the estate of the late William G. C. Harvey, who was killed by a train last spring, while driving a truck across the tracks in Davenport Center, was commenced yesterday in the October term of the supreme court at Delhi, Justice McCann presiding. After the introduction of evidence by the plaintiffs' attorneys, O'Connor & O'Connor, adjournment was taken until today. William Jackson, John P. Grant, and Edmund D. Widner are the attorneys for the defendants.

Several criminal cases, indictments for which were found at an earlier term, were also brought up yesterday and disposed of as follows:

The Walton Toy company pleaded not guilty when arraigned on a charge of violating the liquor law.

Glendy Griffin, indicted for attempted rape, sentence suspended.

Mick Martini, charged with violating the liquor tax law, pleaded not guilty and the case was turned over to the county court.

John Houck, charged with burglary in the third degree, committed in Walton, pleaded guilty, but sentence was suspended.

Mrs. Patsy Ramsey was convicted of a violation of the excise law, was fined $100 and sent to jail for 300 days.

A man named Dutch of the town of Kortright pleaded not guilty to a violation of the liquor tax law.

RALLY AT PORTLANDVILLE.

Hall Filled to Overflowing and Response Was Liberal.

Chairman Butts, Judge Kellogg, Attorney Beckes and Prof. Anibal spoke at a patriotic rally at Portlandville last evening at which the residents of the village and some from Colliers and Milford turned out and filled the hall to overflowing to hear the Liberty Loan presented. The speakers were earnest and convincing and they were accorded close attention. There were some musical numbers during the meeting and the interest was keen. Charles D. McLaury presided and when the call for subscriptions came the people responded with the result that $6,800 of the bonds were sold with encouragement that others would be taken after the matter had been considered. The interest was keen and all seemed to appreciate fully the importance of caring for the men who are sent across the water in the best possible manner. The county is certainly fully aroused if the meeting may be accepted as a criterion.

Bible Study Class Social.

Last evening, at the residence of Mrs. J. R. Peters, 6 Normal avenue, Bible Study class, group four, held a social. There were 43 present. Music and recitations helped to pass the evening pleasantly. delicious refreshments were served. The guests departed at a late hour, all having thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

GERMAN SOLDIERS ARE BRUTAL

ASTOUNDING TALES RELATED BY RETURNING CANADIAN SOLDIERS SAYS THURSTON. A CROUNCE WHO HAS TALKED WITH THEM.

The writer in the course of his work has traveled a great deal through Canada and in and around Buffalo and Niagara Falls and has had many interviews with soldiers and officers from Canada, who have been wounded or otherwise incapacitated from further military duty.

At the present time when we are subscribing to the second Liberty loan it seems as though the people in Oneonta have not the slightest bit of conception of the depredations of the ferocious Hun. Most people believe that we are fighting a military autocracy of which the Kaiser of Germany is the head. The facts are, from these veterans which I have talked with, that every soldier of Germany is the same, and that the people of these United States should so classify him. I will give a few examples of what I have been told.

A captain of a battery of artillery, who went to the front with the first contingent, and who is one of the survivors of the battery of which he is one, of the four living. Here is one of their barbarous acts: He said: "We came upon a group of Canadian Highlanders who were piled in a heap after the Germans had been driven out of a position. We looked them over and wondered what should have killed 42 men in such a manner. No wounds were visible, so we removed part of one man's clothing and found that this man had been peculiarly cut in such a manner that he slowly bled to death. Every man was examined and all were cut in such a manner that they all bled to death, being thrown into a heap and let die. The same man told me of finding men nailed to the sides of the trenches, with all sorts of mutilation.

Another veteran of this war told how that the Belgian and French girls are made to wait on the officers in the German trenches, exposed to shell fire and that hundreds of them had been killed by the fire of the allied guns. After the officers are tired of them they are thrown out to the men and undergo all the tortures that can be imagined.

Another instance: Two brothers joined a Canadian regiment and went over seas together. One brother was taken prisoner, and to the horror of the men of the company to which he belonged, they saw him crucified to a cross, and put up before the fire to the allied guns, in all his agony. His own brother took his rifle and killed him to relieve him of his suffering. This regiment of Canadians has never taken a German prisoner since this happening.

Again another incident, which was related, was that when the German army entered Louvain, instead of the flag of Germany floating from its staff at the head of the soldiers, it was a naked Belgian baby, with its body pierced by a Hun's bayonet, and paraded at their head by a strapping big Hun soldier.

Rapine runs amuck with these partners of the Devil in occupied parts of France and Belgium, and all women left behind are violently insane according to the information gleaned from these men, and never has the writer seen any of them who would not gladly go back and fight again like he has never fought before.

Everyone who can read these words should shudder at the thoughts of these atrocities. We are in the war and are going to win it, but the government must have billions to give these men who are in the army, implements of war to exterminate this curse to civilization. Artillery is the most important, and they must have shells to give to the Huns, a six fold to their one. How would the people in these United States like to have happen to them what has happened to Belgium and France. We will get it if we don't subscribe to every loan that comes out. Anyone would give his whole fortune to prevent this sort of thing happening to his family, if they were here. We are in this war to give Germany her just deserts and plenty of it. Money is as important as men, and more so. We don't realize war, we can't, but I am sure if you talked with some of the men who have come back, you would give your last dollar and go hungry most of the time, to know that Fritz and his ilk were getting war and plenty of it.

Thurston A. Crounce.

POSITIONS FOR MEN AND WOMEN

Uncle Sam Needs 10,000 Stenographers and Typewriters at Once.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—Now that Uncle Sam has the young men of the country in training for military service, he finds that he needs 10,000 typewriter operators and stenographers and typewriters, both men and women, for the departments at Washington. The Civil Service commission has notified all of its 3,000 boards of examiners that they should put forth their best efforts to secure these urgently needed workers. While examinations are now held weekly in 450 cities, the commission states that arrangements will be made to have an examination held at any accessible place where a small class of applicants can be secured. The entrance salaries range from $1,000 to $1,200 a year. Promotion is reasonably rapid to those whose services prove satisfactory. No appointments can be made to these or other positions in the federal classified civil service unless authorized by the Civil Service commission under the civil service law. Any information to the contrary is unauthorized. This is a splendid opportunity to serve your country. Full information may be secured from the secretary of the board of civil service examiners at the post office in your city.

—The first of the series of social events arranged by the entertainment committee of the Oneonta club will be a Halloween dance, which is to be given on Friday evening of this week.

—The meeting of the Men's Advisory board of the Woman's Suffrage committee, which was to have been held last evening at the office of Judge W. I. Bolton, has been postponed until Wednesday evening.

—The attention of Oneonta taxpayers is called to the fact that Thursday of this week is the last day for payment of school taxes at one per cent. City Chamberlain Bowditch states that the receipts to this time have been extraordinarily good.

987 Gauze Articles Made by 74 Women.

—Seventy-four workers were at the Red Cross headquarters yesterday afternoon and evening and completed what is probably the largest number of gauze articles made in any one day in Oneonta.

Nine hundred eighty-seven pieces were finished, including 565 small compresses, 130 large compresses, 240 gauze wipes (or sponges) and 52 gauze strips.

A small shipment of dark khaki yarn was received at the Red Cross rooms last evening and was immediately placed on sale. The price remains the same as previous consignments, 75 cents a skein.

PATRIOTIC SERVICE TONIGHT.

Bishop Nelson of Albany Will Preach This Evening at St. James.

The Right Reverend R. E. Nelson, Protestant Episcopal bishop of the diocese of Albany, will make his annual visitation of St. James' parish in this city this evening. The service will begin at 7:30 o'clock and will include a special musical service by the choir. The sermon by the bishop will be a patriotic discourse, and will treat on the various phases of the great war and on America's connection therewith.

The public is cordially invited to be present at this service.

Meetings Today.

The class in Elementary Hygiene and Home Care of the Sick will meet at 7:30 in the Nurses' home. A good attendance is desired.

There will be a work meeting of the Women's Missionary circle of the First Baptist church at Mrs. A. E. Murdock's, 14 Watkins avenue, at 2 o'clock. Centennial lodge, No. 447, I. O. O. F., will meet at 7:30 o'clock. Business of importance.

Meeting Wednesday.

The O. E. S. Social club will meet with Mrs. Louis Baker, 63 Ford avenue, Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Funds for Home Comforts.

An effort is being made to secure funds with which to provide more of the home comforts for the men from Oneonta and vicinity who are members of the 302nd Infantry, now at Camp Devens in Massachusetts. It is the request that each community contribute $5 for each man at the camp, and as Oneonta has sent 34 men who are now receiving instruction there Oneonta's share will be $170, which it is hoped that a committee of ladies will secure.

Carries the Name "Oneonta."

For some time past representative men of the city of Oneonta have been endeavoring to have the Bauer Chemical company carry the name of Oneonta in the company's advertising.

Every time Mr. Lubbers came to Oneonta the local boosters reminded him of the seeming oversight. Result of this persistent effort has been rewarded. In the New York dailies of Sunday the name Oneonta appeared as one of the headquarters of Sana-togen.

Liberty Loan Supper.

The Oneonta grange will serve a Harvest Home supper at the residence of Granville Rathbun, South Side, on Friday, October 26, the proceeds of which are to be used for the purchase of Liberty bonds. CITY RESPONSE GENEROUS

MANY SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR LIBERTY LOAN ENCOURAGE WORKERS.

Campaign to be Waged Energetically Until Saturday Night—D. & H. Additions to City Will Approximate $100,000—Roy Scouts at Work.

While there are so many solicitors for Liberty Loan bonds in the city it is impossible to secure from day to day an accurate statement of the sales to date. Still the reports of yesterday were most encouraging and if some of the stronger financial interests in the city come in at the last with liberal subscriptions, as they should, it is believed that the final report from the city will be very gratifying and well toward, if not equalling, the amount asked.

The Citizens' National bank has already reported the sale of $240,200 of the bonds with the additions yesterday at that institution $10,600. The Wilber National bank while not as yet reaching that figure is steadily growing. The D. & H. company now believes that the total over the system is well above the $250,000 mark and that Oneonta will do approximately $75,000. One shop employee is reported to have subscribed for $3,000 of the bonds and other sizable sums have been secured there.

All the committees were at work yesterday and while no figures were available last night two of the canvassers secured approximately $7,500 during the day. Others had some subscriptions and the women who are making a vigorous canvass are also securing orders. One member of the Boy Scouts secured $1,500 which while perhaps above the average for the boys is indicative that they will have some figures that will help swell the grand total.

The grand patriotic rally to be held at the Oneonta theatre tomorrow is expected to give an impetus to the movement that will enable the committee to make the last days of the campaign the most successful in numbers at least. All citizens are urged to attend the rally and it is hoped that business places will unite in the movement and close from 12:30 to 3 o'clock as requested.

Residents should remember that the government is not asking a donation but the purchase of a government bond that pays interest at the rate of four per cent annually until the principal is paid. It should also be recalled that if the bonds are not sold that the government will have no alternative but to raise the amount needed to care for the men at the front by taxation. If we finance the government activities the loss and sacrifice of men will be much less than otherwise.

ANNUAL RED CROSS MEETING

Will Be Held in Municipal Building Wednesday Evening.

The annual business meeting of the Oneonta Red Cross chapter will be held in the Municipal building Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected, and it is hoped that a good attendance will be present.

Owing to this meeting there will be no work done at the Red Cross headquarters Wednesday evening, but the volunteer workers will meet in the Red Cross rooms Thursday night instead. Work may be done at the rooms Wednesday afternoon as usual.

CITY'S PATRIOTIC TEACHERS

Have Subscribed $2,500 to the Second Liberty Loan—More Is Expected.

Twenty-five hundred dollars' worth of Liberty bonds have been subscribed to by thirty-five teachers in Oneonta's public schools, and before Loyalty week—the last week of the present campaign—is over a greater sum than this is expected to show the patriotism of the teachers. The canvassing was done by Miss Mary Ward, a teacher in the grades at the Academy street building, in co-operation with the Woman's Liberty loan committee.

Liberty Loan at the Theatres.

Speeches by the speakers yesterday announced were made last evening at the theatres of Oneonta. Though brief the speeches were to the point and the applause accorded, showed that Oneonta is awake to its responsibilities in the matter of the Liberty loan. Tonight the speakers will be as follows:

Tuesday, Oct. 23—Strand, 7:45, Dr. F. I. Bugbee; 9:15, Dr. Charles Schumacher. Oneonta, 7:45, Prof. E. H. Anibal; 9:15, Prof. Wilbur H. Lynch. Broad Street, 8:30, Judge W. Irving Bolton.

Miss Richardson will be glad to meet old and new customers at her dress-making apartments in the Fairchild's building, 264 Main street. The best made-to-measure corsets on the market today, both in surgical and dress, will be handled. Come in and see them. Phone 813-W. advt. 2t

MOTOR AMBULANCE ASSURED.

Committee Purchases Willys-Knight Chassis from Francis Sales Co.

The labor organizations of the city interested in the purchase of a modern motor ambulance for the city have received such assurances of financial support that the committee has placed an order with the Francis Motor Sales company of Oneonta and Milford, through C. H. Dorr, the local manager, for a Willys-Knight chassis for the ambulance, which is to be ready for delivery as soon as wanted.

The committee in charge of the buying leaves this morning for Owego by motor to investigate the style of body most suited to the needs of the city and to ascertain the latest improvements in this style of equipment. It is composed of John L. Young, W. B. Auchenbaugh, L. D. Slade, F. E. Crist, A. C. Lewis and Grant Zeh, and they hope before they return to have their ideas pretty well crystallized upon the body needed for the equipment. The success of the effort is one that is a source of congratulation for all concerned in the movement. It is hoped that there will continue to be a liberal response on the part of all interested, as the outlay will be large to secure the best equipment which is the desire of the committee.

CITY SCHOOLS TO CELEBRATE.

Fiftieth Anniversary Will Be Observed Next Monday Evening.

The twenty-ninth of this month marks the fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of the public school system in this community. It was on that day in 1867 that the citizens proceeded in regular form to organize a union free school district.

It is expected that exercises worthy of such an occasion will be held at the High school next Monday afternoon and evening. Former superintendents, principals and others closely associated with the work of the schools in the past are expected to be in attendance and participate in the program. Doctor Dann will give a brief story of the fifty years. An appropriate and timely address will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Charles Alexander Richmond, chancellor of Union university. Chorus singing by several hundred students will be a feature of the program. None of the old boys and girls will be excused for absence. The public is most cordially invited.

Woman's Club Again Show Patriotism.

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Woman's club held Monday afternoon, it was voted to buy a $100 Liberty Loan bond. The club purchased $200 of the first issue in June last, and again shows its patriotic interest.

The High Cost of Government.

One of the largest items in the high cost of living is the cost of government. Twenty years ago the annual cost of town, state and federal government for the average family of five was less than $100. Today, according to the United States census bureau, it is almost $300.

According to the New York Times, which made an exhaustive investigation, the New York state election of 1911 cost $4,079,171.42, or $2.33 per voter, $2 of which came from the public purse.

The secretary of the commonwealth of Massachusetts, a suffragist, estimates that the doubling of an electorate adds at least 50 per cent to the cost of elections.

On this basis, if the cost in other states is approximately what it is in New York, woman suffrage means an additional expense of at least $1.40 per voter at every election.

Figures filed with the secretary of the United States senate show that the expenses of candidates for the senate in 1914 were more than three times as great in woman suffrage states as in male suffrage states of approximately the same population.

Unless you wish to pay a higher tax on your property, without any compensating advantage, you must vote "No" on woman suffrage. advt. 1t

Certainly Cures Coughs

When the throat becomes clogged with phlegm and produces a "backing" cough which interferes with your work and your rest at night, you should take

Nyal's Winter Cough Remedy

If the phlegm or mucous deposits are allowed to remain, they will not only greatly irritate the membranes of the throat—the bronchial tubes and lungs will become infected as well.

Nyal's Winter Cough Remedy promotes a relaxation of the inflamed air passages, causes the mucous membranes to throw off the phlegm and

MONEY FROM LIBERTY BONDS STAYS IN UNITED STATES

All the money received from the sale of Liberty Bonds will be spent in the United States, according to the Liberty Loan Committee. A large part of it will be spent for farm produce, and the farmer who buys a Liberty Bond will get his money back twice, once when it is used to buy his farm products and again when he sells his bond.

Liberty Bonds will be always easily convertible into cash, but the wisest men never sell their government bonds and say "they are as good as wheat in the bin." When they need money they can always borrow on Liberty Bonds. Most bankers will loan 90 per cent of the face value of Liberty Bonds, and these banks trying to get money on personal notes at harvest time.

One of the greatest friends the farmers ever had, Liberty Hyde Bailey, former Dean of the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell, told that he thinks of Liberty Bonds in a letter to the committee, saying:

"I hope that the forthcoming Liberty Loan will be taken freely by farmers as well as by others. It provides an opportunity to express one's patriotism as well as to make an investment. I am intending to subscribe and consider it a privilege to do so."

OBSEQUIES OF DR. CHURCHILL.

Large Concourse Present at Services at Remere Monday.

Stamford, Oct. 22. — The funeral services for the late Dr. S. E. Churchill were held from the Remere on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. W. D. Cavert, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Stamford.

An immense throng gathered to do honor to his memory that taxed the commodious reception hall of the hotel and many remained in the outer halls, unable to be accommodated in the interior.

Mr. Cavert took for his text the words from the book of Samuel 11, third chapter and 38th verse, "Know ye not, that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day in Israel?" Following only slightly the biography of the deceased, he drew many comparisons between the subject of his discourse and the life of Dr. Churchill, showing his personal greatness, the princely type of manhood that he represented and the characteristics of his nature that made him indeed a prince among men.

The regard in which he was held was evinced by the great number of floral offerings, both from his friends and from many of the organizations with which he was connected. The pall bearers were selected from among the physicians of the sections and with all of whom he had been associated in his medical work.

The interment was made in a plot in the cemetery which he had lately purchased and for which he had extensive plans under way for the beautifying and decorating.

Many friends came from long distances to pay their last respects and the whole section for miles around was represented.

The school and all business places closed during the time of the services by unanimous consent.

WHY ENGINEER BOUGHT A BOND

New Appeal in Liberty Loan Issue is Revealed By Old Railroad Man's Story.

By EDITH BARNARD DELANO of the Vigilantes.

Mike S— runs Number — on the B. & O. An old timer is Mike, and proud of it. Could have had a big job with the Brotherhood any time for years past, but doesn't think he'd enjoy life unless he could see it from a cab window. Might have been G. M. if he'd had more book learning; but Mike doesn't miss that— plenty of man sense to make up for it. And he's friends with everybody; calls four railroad presidents by their first names, and they say the old man himself asks Mike's advice at times.

There's been a good deal of talk lately among the men about these Liberty Bonds, and Mike's a friend of 'em. He was leaning out of his cab window in Camden station the other day, and another engineer who is known among the boys as something of a tight was leaning out of his a couple of tracks over.

"Going to buy one of these new Liberty Bonds, Bill?" Mike asked.

"I am not," said Bill, so you couldn't mistake what he meant. "I keep my money in a savings bank. That's good enough for me. How I'd know this country'll win the war? Who'd you reckon will give me back the money on a Liberty Loan Bond if Germany wins, hey? No, sir; I guess the savings bank'll carry me along for awhile longer."

Mike scratched his ear and grinned; he has a catching sort of grin, has Mike.

"Bill Edson," said he, "you remind me of something that once came to my notice, because I was in it. Must be a matter of thirty years ago now. I was on my first passenger engine, and a beauty she was, a thunderer for those days; just out of the shops, and I was prouder of her than I was of the 'twins."

"Was along in the spring some time, and the crews coming east all reported worst flood conditions ever known. I brought my train down over Harper's Ferry when the yellow mud was boiling down underneath like as if all Niagara was let loose. Got as far as Cumberland and received orders to leave the train there and take my engine back and run her out on the Harper's Ferry bridge and leave her there. Yes, sir, LEAVE HER THERE! I didn't believe those orders were straight until I found out that every other big engine anywhere within reach of the bridge had gotten the same. Well, we did it. The bridge was crumpled full of engines—all the trucks would hold—by nightfall."

"It wasn't until I got back to Baltimore, some days later after the flood had gone down, that I got wind of the way it happened. John M. King was V. P. in those days, and a better railroad never lived, bar none. He happened to be in charge at the Central building right then, and reports of floods kept coming in and coming in, and everybody got more and more worried. One bridge after another went down; one mile of track after another was washed out. Finally some fellows from the Maintenance of way rushed in and said the Harper's Ferry bridge would be the next to go. King thought a minute and then gave orders that every heavy engine the bridge would hold should be run out on her and left there by nightfall. King was crazy, but they didn't know him. 'Why, Mr. King, there's no use sending all that new rolling stock down with the bridge,' said one man. King just gave him a look. 'If the Harper's Ferry bridge goes down, son,' said he, 'we won't need the rolling stock.'

"And say, Bill Edson"—Mike's hand was on the throttle and he'd got his signal to pull out—"the Harper's Ferry bridge is still standing. I guess she'll carry you and me along for awhile longer, hey?"

And the point of the story is that Bill Edson bought a Liberty Bond the next day.

GREATEST SHEEP PENS

Gigantic Pens at Denver Have Capacity of 350,000 Head.

Occupying a floor space of more than eight acres, Denver has opened the largest sheep sheds in the world. The only exercises dedicating the immense structure was the "turning in" of nearly 35,000 sheep into the pens on the upper and lower decks.

The building is double decked, and constructed so that other decks can be added if required. At present the shed has a capacity of 350,000 head. It is of solid concrete, reinforced by steel; is 400 feet long and 380 feet wide.

The structure cost $150,000.

Rev. Frederick Wedge is now a freight brakeman in the employ of the Northwestern road. He passed the required examination for entrance to the train service in Antigo and made his first "run" between Antigo and Ashland. Rev. Wedge says he likes railroad work and intends to remain on the job until he has saved enough to pay his debts and put away a little nest egg in the bank. According to his statement he will receive about $125 per month.

Mother Has Sent One to School for Each Year for a Long Time.

When Mrs. C. T. Lowe of Swanton, O., kissed her youngest, Richard, and started him toddling off to school the other morning just twenty-four years had elapsed since she started her first youngster for school; and not a year has passed during that time that she has not had one to five children attending school. She is the mother of fourteen children.

Both parents weigh over 200 pounds each and the grown children weigh from 175 to 200 pounds each, with one exception. The entire family tips the scales well above a ton.

WHERE CORNBREAD PERSISTS

Used by Thousands of Well-to-Do People in South in Cities and Towns as Well as in Country.

In response to Champ Clark's advice that there should be a greater use of corn as food, the epicure of the New York Sun makes this sage observation concerning cornbread:

"It was well thought of in this country as human food, 50, 40, perhaps 30 years ago. But in an unfortunate day even poor folks began to neglect corn. Dressed up as hominy it had a certain popularity; parents were willing that their children should eat it thus. Treated with baking powder, salt, plenty of rich cream and butter, it was still made into a hot bread some were not ashamed to eat."

This serves chiefly in this part of the country to show how little the South and Southerners are computed as a part of the country, and how little they know in New York and other supposed enlightened centers of what constitutes good eating, says the Nashville (Tenn.) Banner.

It is assuredly not necessary to use the past tense when corn as human food is spoken of in the South. Cornbread is used preferably by thousands of well-to-do people of the South, in the cities and towns, as well as in the rural districts.

Bob Taylor used to say one essential difference between the South and North is "hot biscuits and cold light bread." The negro cooks in the South made hot bread for each meal practically, while the thrifty housewives of the North had "baking days," when enough bread was baked for a week. That was where the difference mainly lay.

Lemons Whiten and Beautify the Skin! Make Cheap Lotion

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen, and bring out the hidden roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful for rough, red hands.

Your druggist will sell three ounces of orchard white at little cost, and any grocer will supply the lemons.

SUGAR REFINERIES RUINED

Germans Looted Those in Noyon—May Restore Dozen.

An inventory of the forty sugar refineries in the French territory liberated from German occupation this year shows that ten or twelve of them can be restored without difficulty. The rest are nothing but shapeless masses of debris. The Germans stripped all these refineries of everything in the nature of bronze, brass or copper, taking entire machines where practicable, and breaking others up to get the most useful metal out of them.

The sugar beet land in the vicinity of these refineries has been belabored by shells, many of which, unexploded, must be extracted before the cultivation of the soil will be safe.

Dandruff Scalps Lead to Baldness

If you have dandruff get rid of it quick—it's positively dangerous and will surely rob your hair if you don't. Dandruff leads to baldness. It's a fact. Dandruff hair that finally dies and falls out—new hair will not grow—then you are bald and nothing can help you. The only sure way to abolish dandruff for good is to destroy the germ that causes it. To do this quickly, surely and safely there is nothing so effective as Parlefin Sage, which you can get from R. B. Gildersleeve and good druggists everywhere. It is guaranteed to cure dandruff, stop itching scalp and falling hair, and promote a new growth of the coat, small as it is, will be refunded. Parlefin Sage is a scientific preparation that supplies all hair needs—an antiseptic liquid, neither sticky or greasy, easy to apply, and delicately perfumed. If you want beautiful, soft thick, lustrous hair, and lots of it, you must use Parlefin Sage. Don't delay—begin tonight. A little attention now insures abundant hair for years to come. NOTE: Parlefin Sage positively will not color or streak the hair.

Leaves for Boston.

Dr. and Mrs. L. M. Day received a card from their son, Frank, who was one of the selected men recently sent from Sidney to Camp Dix, and who was transferred last week to Camp Devens, Mass., and assigned to Company D, Twenty-fifth Engineers, stating that he was going to leave at once for Boston and expected to start for France at once, to be engaged in reconstruction work. Mr. Day, who is an architect by profession, was one of 15 men chosen from the 30,000 at Camp Dix for this service. Mr. and Mrs. Day leave this evening for Boston to visit their son before his departure.

DAILY DELHI DOINGS.

New Road Being Constructed in Delaware Academy Grounds.

Delhi, Oct. 22.—Robert L. Gray and son have the contract for the construction of the new road on the academy grounds and are now at work. By starting to raise half way from the street to the boarding hall, a uniform grade is established from that point to the old academy, now the domestic science school building, taking a portion of the hill off in front of the dormitory and filling below that point. A most desirable entrance is had to the High school and Agricultural school grounds which will be appreciated by all who desire access.

Death of Prominent Young Lady.

Miss Leslie Baggett of Alexandria, Va., a young lady who had spent several summers here, died in that city last Saturday. She had made many friends here. Miss Ruth Harkness of this village has left to attend the funeral. Miss Madge Harkness will take her sister's position as teacher at Stamford during her absence.

Soldiers' Benefit.

The entertainment committee of the Red Cross will give a benefit for our own soldiers at the opera house Wednesday evening. The proceeds will be devoted to furnishing Christmas presents to our own boys in the service.

Meetings for Liberty Loan.

Dr. C. E. Woods, Frank Farrington and H. J. Hewitt addressed a meeting last evening at Cabin Hill and Prof. C. O. DuBois and E. O. Harkness at Hamden, at which meetings much interest was manifested. This week meetings will be held at Fraser, Treadwell, Meridale, Bovina and other districts.

Supreme Court.

The supreme court convened at the court house at 2 p. m. Monday, having been adjourned from last week. Justice George McCann of Elmira is in town to hold the term. Indications are that there will be business enough to occupy the entire week.

LIBERTY LOAN DAY IN HOBART.

Big Rally Will Be Held in the Evening With Hon. Chas. C. Flaesch, Speaker.

Hobart, Oct. 23.—Liberty Loan day will be observed in Hobart Wednesday evening with a big rally in Grant's hall at 8 o'clock. The local committee, of which Hon. J. R. Stevenson is chairman, announces that Hon. Charles C. Flaesch of Unadilla, a former member of the State Industrial commission, will be the principal speaker and that there will be short talks by local men. Mr. Flaesch is a fine orator and Hobart and vicinity people are looking forward with pleasure to his coming to Hobart. Grant's hall is sure to be crowded to hear the patriotic addresses and to get behind the government in making the world safe for democracy. The Hobart orchestra will furnish music. It is planned also to present the work of the local Red Cross, telling what the devoted women of Hobart and vicinity have already accomplished and something of their plans for the future. An offering for the Red Cross work will be taken and everybody is asked to come prepared to give, as the need is great.

Liberty Loan Day Rhetoricals.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES TO YOU

THE WHITE HOUSE
 WASHINGTON

13 October, 1917

May I not express to you my very deep interest in the campaign in New York for the adoption of woman suffrage, and may I not say that I hope that no voter will be influenced in his decision with regard to this great matter by anything the so-called pickets may have done here in Washington? However justly they may have laid themselves open to serious criticism, their action represents, I am sure, so small a fraction of the women of the country who are urging the adoption of woman suffrage that it would be most unfair and argue a very narrow view to allow their actions to prejudice the cause itself. I am very anxious to see the great State of New York set a great example in this matter.

Woodrow Wilson

MEN of New York, you are as fair-minded as the President. You know that the 1,012,994 women of New York who ask the vote are women of every locality, of every representative type—your mothers, wives and daughters.

You know that two years ago the vote for Woman Suffrage in this State was the largest ever cast in favor of a constitutional amendment. You know that victory was all but won. You know that if one man out of nine has changed his mind and votes for it this year, Woman Suffrage will be a fact.

Since 1915 the war has shown what Woman's service to the State can mean. The Military Census counted women and men alike in estimating the resources of New York. Enlist the State's full strength by voting for
